What does BECTU do?

We provide a range of support services to staff and freelances working in the media and entertainment sectors. We negotiate pay and conditions of work and represent our members on all employment issues.

We are also committed to supporting new entrants to the industry to secure fair contracts, good pay and the training they need to develop successful careers.

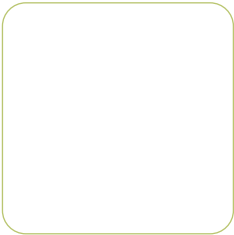

The union also works to promote equality at work and to develop a strong health and safety culture.

Why sign up to the Register?

Through your contact with us you can learn more about the issues which face the media and entertainment workforce.

With our help you will start work with a much better understanding of the industry and your place within it.

What will BECTU deliver?

Join the Register and we will tell you about activities of interest to you. BECTU organises an annual Freelance Fair, for example, together with a number of other special events around the country.

- Join the Register and you will be offered access to these networking opportunities.
- Our website will also carry information of value to you.
- We can also tell you about opportunities for subsidised training.
- When you graduate we will send you a personal invitation to join BECTU as a full member, at a preferential rate, via our new entrant membership.

BECTU meets with students across the UK to speak about our work. Ask your tutor to contact us if you would like a visit. info@bectu.org.uk

Looking to the future

You and your fellow students are the BECTU members of the future. What are your expectations of work? How does BECTU need to develop to meet your future needs? We hope that together we can answer these questions and many more.
